

Gnome Gmail

Gnome Gmail is a tool to configure Gmail in your default browser as your mail client, so clicking on a mail link in a webpage or document, will bring you to gmail in stead of opening a standalone mail client. This integration usually works also from the desktop file manager, for sending a file by mail.

Despite the name, it works not only with Gnome, but in all applications that support the <http://freedesktop.org> standards.

See Gnome Gmail

From:

<https://helpdesk.strw.leidenuniv.nl/wiki/> - Computer Documentation Wiki

Permanent link:

https://helpdesk.strw.leidenuniv.nl/wiki/doku.php?id=linux:gnome_gmail

Last update: 2015/06/08 09:14

